HOW ALLSPICE GROWS.

Something About the Beautiful and Fra grant Pimente Tree. The pimento or allspice tree is cultivated in the West Indies and Jamaica. This beautiful tree usually grows to a beight of about 30 feet. It has a straight trunk, much branched above, and covered with a very smooth brown bark. The leaves vary in size and shape, but are always of a dark, shining green color. During the months of July and D. The chosen piece of land is then cleared of all wood except these trees, and the felled timber is allowed to remain on the ground for the purpose of protecting the very young pimento plants. At the end of two years the land is thoroughly cleared, and only the most vigorous pimento trees and plants are left standing. The plants come to maturity in about seven years.

In favorable seasons the pimento crop is enormous, a single tree often yielding a hundred or more pounds of the dried spice. The berries are picked while green, because if left on the tree until ripe they lose their pungent taste and are valueless. The green berries are exposed to the sun for a week or ten days, when they lose their green color and turn a reddish brown. When perfectly dry, they are put in bags and casks for

Among other things Mr. Bryan said: "I would rather have the wife on my side at the beginning of the campaign than the husband if I could have but one of the two, because if I had the wife she would get her husband on her side before the campaign was over, while if I had the busband only I wouldn't be sure of him.

"A lady canvassing in Nebraska the other day gave utterance to one of the best things I have enjoyed in this campaign. She called at our house to get literature on the silver campaign and said she had a brother who was a gold man without gold. She could understand she said, how a man who had gold could be a gold man, but could only pity a gold man who had none.

"That is the condition of a large major_ ity of gold men. When you find a gold man without gold he is one you can convert, because while the gold standard is good for the few it is bad for the masses. The reason why our cause grows each day is because the arguments on behalf of himetallism appeal to the heads and hearts of the American people, and the gold standard appeals only to the heart-

The requirements which will be asked of the Street Railway company in connec. tion with the Beaver extension service have not yet been put into a form for final consideration, but will probably be finished this week.

The discussion of the money question the Congregational chapel opened Monday evening by Mr. Martin's reading some statistics bearing on the rate of wages of the present as compared with those of 1873. He quoted Spahr, who put present daily wages $1.89 as against $1.81 in 1873. Mr. Martin also defined wages as the remuneration of the laborer in the comforts, luxuries and necessaries of life. HANNA, THE GREAT POLITICAL GENERAL.

Chairman Hanna of the Republica National committee has proven himself a grent politichi general. He is a tactica and strategist alike. He organizes an plans a campaign with equal ability, anevery Republican may feel absolute confidence in his ability. If McKinley can not be elected with Hanna as chief of th Republican campaign leaders then no body or no thing could elect him. Mar Hunra is the ablest campaign organiz this country has yet seen.

A letter from the West to the Ne: York San gives the present work being done by Mr. Hanna, and compares it with the campaign work of the Bryan force-I shows what kind of man and fighter

Hanna 18. "Old political correspondents and o. campaigners are in the depths of admira tion over the vast machinery in operation at Republican national headquarters Every department is run with rapidity thoroughness, and tireless energy. Every town and hamlet in the middle North anfar V. estern states is instantly reached by a vast system of direct telegraph wir a The constantly moving army of 400 speak ers, and the thousands of agents an silent campaigners are in quick and com plete communication with headquarter Nothing is left to 'hearsay' or 'tuey say'

Every step in the campaign is known, and the information is direct and a thentic. "At Popogratic headquarters things are far different. It is with no desire to be critically offensive when it is recorded that everything pertaining to these head quarters has a shiftless appearance that is positively distressing. There does no appear to be any system for anything or anybour It is a go-as-you-please head. quarters. There is always a natural simils for everything in existence, and it is not going too far to say that Popocratic head quarters as compared to Republican nationel herdquarters is very much like a just shop to a 100-ton Corliss engine Charman Hanna is nervy, springy, and determined. Chairman Jones is listless. dre my, and uncertain. Talk with Hanna and you find mun chock full of vim and fire Tala with Jones and you find him timid and hesitating. He has a far-away look. Hanna is forceful and brim full of confidence. Jones acts very much like a man was has been hit with a brick and who is on the lookout for more bricks,"

A WORD FOR YALE.

A Yale Alumnus has sent us a number of the Y Je Weekly containing a marked editorial on the Bryan incident, and asks us to make some comment on the Yale spirit shown. We accordingly print here a portion of the editorial, and although our critation of the Yale students at the time was severe, as it should have been, yet there is a manliness displayed in the Yale publication that is to be admired. The code go paper says:

"Cell it thoughtless, innocent, impulsive m sch el, without malice, or premeditation, it you will. So it was, but that doesn't excuse those who participated in it, or save the University from sharing the of a ne. Under all the circumstances and particularly in view of the wretched management of the affair which so tried everyone in the crowd, it was not strange the the explosion was heard. It did demage, nevertheless. Those who are used to student crowds are used to such breaks, and breaches of the proprieties. That fact doesn't make the occurrence seem any better to those who are not used to them, nor does it change the essential character of the acts that are performed. "Unless we wish to abandon one of the most fundamental characteristics and as well one of the great sources of strength -A:

our share of the disrepute of acts by Yale men that are not up to the standard which the educated gentleman should hold, and we must admit that the Univer sity flag is lowered when such acts are performed. Things were done and said last Thursday by a number of members o the University, that it is not the part of gentlemen to do and say. That's the fact to face. And another fact to face is, that occurrences of that sort are not the rares things. It is not most important to show at such a time as this, that hineteen twentieths of the University never throw tanir selfrespectaside or forgot their responsibilities as gentlemen of Yale."

For what reason did H. R. Wellington go into the county Democratic convention at Pittsfield Monday and seek the nomination for construcionk? He says he wis not used fairly by the Republican county convention. In other words, h. is sore. He came near to getting the Democratic nomination, lackmg only four votes of a necessary majority, but he has lost his grap on Republi can politics in this county for all time to come. A good soldier keeps in the ranks

Pittsfield had a rousing meeting Mon my evening in the interest of municipa corm and non-partisan city government M tyor Bancroft of Cambridge, spoke to a arge audience. The best citizens of the ly were present, and another meeting v. s set for Thursday night. Pittefield is cing to endorse North Adams' ideas nd this fact makes us feel surer than ver before that few mistakes have been a de in our charter and our way of adnistering it up to this time:

let out your illuminations and flags for he big Republican rally Wednesday eveig. Give the marching clubs a good eseption, and let Senator Lodge and Col. comes know that this is the same city hat turned out the biggest crowd be ween Boston and Chicago to cheer the dassachusetts Republican delegation to it 3 St. Louis convention when passing a ough here in June.

Great Barrington's $200,000 fire, which as practically destroyed the business enter of the town, is a serious blow, esecially as it has come in a period of genral financial distress when money for uv investment is scarce. We hope the e utiful southern Berkshire town will : : w its pluck and rebuild with brick and me instead of wood.

With Clapp's band and the Blackinton le club to make music at the Republia rally Wednesday evening, the Richand artiflery to make noise and Senator eige to dress down the Popocrats, the yanites will know that the Republicans

POLITICAL FACTS.

Deeds are facts and are forever and ever. * * * In silver countries, labor is cheap and kept cheap by the silver dollar. For my part I do not want that kind of prosperity. I want a prosperity, which, by good wages to all, is shared by all. We want a broader life broadening every day for all our people.-THOMAS B, REED

BAD BOY BRYAN UPSETTING THINGS.

Which ' - It Cannot Be Both. The Paredexes and fallacies of the free silver advecates are plentifully il-Instruted in the interesting letters of

One set stoutly maintain that there at the south and west insist that what the country needs is a cheaper dollar. The good old gold dollar of Jefferson, Jackson and Benton has been "forced up" in value, they say. They want a dollar of about half its value to increase the price of their products and to enable them to pay their debts at half the present cost and trouble. As Mr. Bryan put it in his letter to The World, they would "restore the parity between money and property" by reducing the

Now both of these theories cannot be true. They are flatly contradictory. If silver would appreciate under free coinage, there would be no cheap money. Prices would not rise. Debts could not be sealed down. If it would not appreciate, the workingman's saved dollars would be reduced one-half in value, the cost of his living would double and his wages would not increase in anything like the ratio of the increase in his ex-

Why is the best money too good for wageworkers? What is the matter with the highest standard of value in a country where the highest wages and the highest standard of living prevail? The World begs the workingmen to think a little deeper and a little further on this vital subject.—New York World.

A Warning From Webster,

He who tampers with the currency robs labor of its bread. He panders indeed to greedy capital, which is keen sighted and may shift for itself, but he beggars labor, which is honest, unsus-pecting and too busy with the present to calculate for the future. The pority of the working classes lives, moves and has its being in established credit and a steady medium of payment. All sudden changes destroy it.

Henest industry never comes in for any part of the spoils in that scramble which takes place when the currency of a country is disordered. Did wild schemes and projects ever benefit the industrious? Did violent fluctuatious ever do good to him who depends on his daily labor for his daily bread? Certainly never.

All these things may gratify greediness for sudden gain or the rashness of daring speculation, but they can bring nothing but injury and distress to the homes of patient industry and honest Libor.-Daniel Webster, Speech

things could restore the conditions that prevailed previous to 1878 and make the market value of silver what it was then, they would not want free coinage. There would be nothing in it for them. What they really want is cheap money, a kind of money with which creditors can be cheated. They are not trying to put silver back to its old place and reestablish the monetary system that existed before the "great crime" was committed. Their scheme does not unply the coinage of better dollars than those we now have, but infinitely poorer ones, which can be used in the payment of debts at the rate of 53 cents on the dellar. - St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Mints and Mills. The mints cannot make a bushel of wheat worth a dollar. Mills which build up new towns and people them with prosperous communities that increase the consumption of breadstuffs will raise the price of wheat quicker than all the free coinage laws that can be enacted. The mints cannot create value. Only the brawny arms of honest toil, directed by genius and intelli-gence, can create value. The mints can-not create prosperity or happiness.— Chicago Times-Herald.

Silver Production and Prices

In 1878 the total world's production of silver was 61,100,000 ounces, and the silver in a dollar was worth $1.04

Last year the world's product of silver was 165,000,000 cunces, and the silver in a dollar was worth only 50 7-10

Will the silver miners restore the production of 1873 as the first step toward "restoring the conditions?"

Secretary Morton said in a public address the other day that they deferryized flatboats on the Missouri river in the neighborhood of Omaha because steamboats served the purpose better. Later they deferryized steamboats because a steel bridge served their purpose better still. They didn't make those changes as the result of an election, but as a matter of business.

mercial nations have abandoned silver and accepted gold as the standard. They have not done so by any town meeting process, but simply as a matter of busi-erent countries, or in what is called in-ternational trade, there is no standard escribed by law, or lawful money. But gold has been accepted as the standard by common consent. The people engaged in this trade prefer gold.

There is not a widow or an orphan but would find that the life insurance policy was worth in purchasing power but half of what it would have been worth, or a pensioner but would find that his $12 a month was worth but $6. Only one course remains open to Democrats—to guard faithfully the ark of the covenant. This craze will soon subside, and the Democrats will return to the fold. Anniversary Celebration.

The Methodist church parlors were the scene of a delightful surprise party last vening, the occasion being the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the marriage of Rev. and Mrs. Edward Wilson The affair was planned and gotten up by the ladies of the church and so skillfully did they carry out their plans that the pastor and his wife were taken completely by surprise. The parlors were beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and at least 150 people had gathered by 8 o'clock when the exercises began. A fine musical program was rendered, at the close of which Mrs. H. H. Heap called Rev. and Mrs. Wilson to the front and after a few congratulatory remarks handed them a box containing a goodly sum of money, which the ladies had raised. Not until then did Mr. and Mrs. Wilson realize what the party meant and for a moment the genial pastor was at a loss for words to respond. After he had partially recovered from his surprise he thanked the people in his usual happy vein. The ladies then served lunch, after which a social time was en-

A GOOD LECTURE.

Delivered Monday Evening by Rev. Dr. Searles at the Baptist Church.

The lecture delivered at the Baptist church Monday evening by Rev. Dr. Wiljiam Searles of Auburn, N. Y., was heard by a fair sized audience and keenly enjoyed. His subject as previously announced, was "The Misplaced Switch," and it was handled with the earnestness and ability which make Dr. Searles' addresses so interesting and effective. The speaker was introduced by Rev. Mr. Penney and began his lecture with a few humorous allusions to switches of various kinds, from that to which,housed to dance when a boy, to the sort the ladies use in dressing their hair. He also spoke of railroad switches and said that a majority of the bad accidents on railroads are caused by mispleced switches.

Dr. Searles then said that his lecture would deal with a sort of i magmary railroad over which all travel from the cradle to the sunset of life. His language was figurative and the lines of life traversed, with the influences that turn one in this or that direction, were likened to railroads and switches. He spoke of the necessity of training children in the right direction in their early childhood. And the three great principles to be inculcated are industry, integrity and religion. As an example of what these elements can do, he sited the career of James A. Garfield. Not all can be Garfields, but they can practice the virtues that made him great and reap the rewards according to their natural ability and the circumstances and conditions by which they are surrounded.

A child should be taught the strictest integrity and never allowed to abandon principle in its children barterings. To neglect this is to switch one upon the track that may lead to the dungeon or the gallows. An integrity that will pay 100 cents on the dollar is what is demanded. No honest individual or nation will do less, for this is the "gold standard" of integrity. A nation is but an aggregation of individuals and can take the wrong track as well as an individual.

The speaker emphasized the need of the most watchful care on the part of the parents in training their children in the right direction, and also of showing sym_ pathy for those who have found them. selves on the wrong track. He charged the laws with punishing effects and leaving causes unmolested, and made a strong appeal for prohibition of the liquer traffie.

Dr. Searles closed his lecture, which was enlivened at different points with touches of humor, by saying that religion is the one essential thing in life. The address was heard with noticeable interest and was calculated to leave a lasting impression upon those who heard it. The speaker was heartly applauded at the

MEMORY AND MONEY.

A Former Graylock Mill Employe Loses Both. The Police Get His Story.

Frank Bashforth, formerly of Greylock, slash tender in the mill, was arrested on Main street Monday afternoon by Officer Whipple for drunkenness. At 9 o'clock in the evening he had sobered off sufficiently to be released on ball and after the necessary dealings with Clerk Cady were finished Bashforth left the station. He told a story about being robbed of $100 while he was in an intoxicated condition.

He said he came to this city from Providence, R. I., Sunday night. Early next morning he proceeded to get a drink of whiskey and within a few minutes he had three glasses of the dizzy liquid in his stomach. He recalls a wandering trip taken to the hills on the north side of the city about 10 o'clock, but his memory left him after that hour and with its return at 1 o'clock his money was gone. He says he went to sleep in a shanty by the road side and had the $100 in new $5 bills in the inside pocket of his vest. When searched at the police station his possessions were a watch and $15, three new hills. He thinks that the liquor which he drank was drugged for the idea of his losing his memory completely after only three glasses of ordinary whis. key was too preposterous for credence. While the police put but little reliance on the truth of the tale they will keep a lookout for crisp $5 bills.

Pressure on a Bicycle Tire,

Some interesting experiments have been made as to the air pressure in bicycle tires. As the bicycle stood alone the pressure on the front tire was 9 pounds and on the rear tire 26 pounds. When the rider mounted, the increase in the pressure in the front wheel was not perceptible, and in the rear wheel was less than half a pound. The

CAST HIS LOT WITH BLACKS.

A White Man Who Was Brought Up Among Slaves.

Take the case of Rev. W. J. White, the editor of a Baptist weekly published at Augusta, Ga. White is a man of intelligence and integrity, and his account of his early life has never been disputed.

Briefly this is the story: A few years before the war a dark faced boy made his appearance on a large Georgia plan-tation. He was supposed to be a mulatto, and when the planter died the youngster was sold with the estate.

After the war this alleged mulatto picked up an education and investigated his ancestry. He was not much sur-prised to learn that he did not have a particle of negro blood in his veins. His mother was an Indian and his father was a white man. White was not long in deciding to cast his lot with the blacks. He had always been classed with them. It seemed to be the will of the Almighty that he should share the burdens of the negro tace, and he made up his mind to stick to his old companions. He prospered and became a leader among the people. He has the respect and confidence of both races, but he has never attempted to rise above what he believes to be his divinely ordained sphere. It is easy to see at a glance that this man is not a mulatto or a quadroon, for his mixed Indian and Caucasian blood cannot be mistaken; but he has no desire to out loose from the exslaves with whom he has spent the

Many of the white ministers of his denomination know the peculiar facts of his case, and they treat him with great consideration. Uncomplainingly he leads his life of self sacrifice, and his only object seems to be the advancement of his adopted race. He married a mulatto and submits to all the laws and social distinctions which separate the two races in the south. Few men similarly situated would have followed White's example. As a
